EDUCATIONAL STUDIES

We prepare students to teach, change lives, and impact communities. The Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies is designed for students who are interested in the education field but do not want a teaching license. The program offers a solid foundation of liberal arts, social sciences, and education courses, with flexibility for pursing electives, a minor, or even a dual major in an area of interest. Educational Studies graduates can pursue graduate programs in education, counseling, business administration, or organizational leadership.
